CNI Network Our Aims:

- 'Supporting Projects, Supporting People' is our vision
- Supporting existing projects through training, media, visits, national profile, etc.
- Helping new projects to set-up

To be made up of:

*National funding to be pursued in support of established funding activity.

This will allow us to provide:

- Ongoing support for established projects.
- Development of new projects across a range of communities (NTE, Club, Festival, etc.) including expanding international interest.
- A strong voice amongst national policing, licensing and political forums around issues within the NTE and the work of Christian communities to reduce crime, antisocial behaviour and the effect of harmful addictions.
- Encourage increased partnership working between and across local projects, public services and voluntary organisations in order to bridge the gap in public funding whilst mobilising the goodwill and personal skills of church communities; providing hope and a better future for those in need.

Our charity's main, recent achievements:

We have increased the amount of media coverage we receive, including appearing on BBC's Newsnight.

Our projects have contributed to a reduction in alcohol related crime and A&E admissions in the UK.

We represented 30 of our local projects at our latest CNI Network Conference.

We launched our Street Angels book and made £2,000 worth of sales.

Increased recognition of local project work, including a Queen's Award for Voluntary Service.

Introducing several new projects, including student-based work inside club venues.

Our main non-financial targets:

To look towards overseas expansion, become more influential as we help change a culture, increase work at one-off events, e.g. music festivals, and look into new areas of need, e.g. train station angels.

A message for our supporters:

CNI Network has a vision of 'Supporting Projects, Supporting People'.

We are an umbrella organisation for over 130 local projects who are contributing to significant cultural change within the UK.

We are a grassroots movement that supports and resources those on the frontline of our communities.

Our model has received recognition from the most influential in society.

We help local projects be part of a worldwide family of change.
